Bryce Harper just got some serious husband points.

The Nationals star surprised his wife Kayla with a custom jacket ahead of the Nationals' first NLDS game against the Cubs on Friday.

The jacket features several meaningful patches that are covered in Swarovski crystals and pearls.

In an Instagram post about the jacket, Harper thanked its creator, Leah Paulovich Miller (@thediamondduchess).

Miller had this to say about the jacket on Instagram:

"I was honored to be asked to bring @bharper3407 s vision to life for his lovely wife @kayy.harper. He went thru so much trouble and planning to make this surprise "bomberman" jacket for her. Patent leather. Merino wool. Designer patches. Handmade patches. Swarovski and pearls. #mlb #mlbwife #wags #bomberman #varsityjacket #customjacket #swarovski #dreamtimecreations #bryceharper #brycelookslikebrockohurn #brockohurn #leahmiller #bellaartistry #thediamondduchess #honored #grateful"
